Adjustment Commission Will Air Farm Finance Crisis At Ventura Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO—Possibility of a moratorium on debts and other action to aid California small farmers threatened with a serious financial crisis will be considered at a meeting of the State Farm Debt Adjustment Commission to be held in Ventura December 4. Rollin B. Moore, assistant secretary of the Commission and regional debt adjustment specialist for the Farm Security Administration, said Wednesday.

Moore said decision to call the Ventura meeting followed a discussion held in Santa Rosa recently at which 90 small farm owners met with representatives of the National Farm Loan Association, Farm Credit Administration and Farm Debt Adjustment Commission to present a composite picture of their financial problems. Commission Chairman John Phillips, Chairman Wilford Howard of the debt adjustment body's Sonoma County committee, and Representative Clarence Lea of Santa Rosa were among officials present who heard farmers of Napa, Sonoma and Mendocino Counties warn that they face foreclosures and eviction unless a three-year waiver of principal payments on their loans is granted.

Consensus of speakers was that farmers can pay taxes, insurance and interest on loans this year but must have an extension of time on principal amortization. Spokesmen urged the Farm Credit Administration and Farm Debt Adjustment Commission to negotiate with private lending agencies to arrange the waiver, with the proviso that each case be decided on its merits.

TRAFFIC CRASH VICTIM ONCE SOLD MINE FOR MILLION

Mrs. Julia MacDonald, Of Rescue, Reports Life History Of John Wolfe As Efforts Are Made To Locate Son Whom He Had Not Seen Since Shortly Following Birth

Shortly before going to press we learn that last rites for Mr. Wolfe will be held Thursday at 2 o'clock from the O'Keefe chapel. Interment will be at Jayhawk cemetery.

John Wolfe, 77, who died Monday evening at a hospital in Placerville of a skull fracture received earlier in the day in an auto wreck near the Webber Creek bridge on U. S. Route 50, had a life history which rivals fiction.

Mrs. Julia MacDonald, of the Rescue district, had come to know Mr. Wolfe very well since he had been making her home his El Dorado County headquarters since last February, although he had been engaged in mining in the county for seven or eight years.

The body of Mr. Wolfe is in the care of the M. O'Keefe Company and plans for the funeral services are awaiting the success or failure of attempts to communicate with Mr. Wolfe's son, whom he had last seen many years ago when the father started west to seek his fortune.

In the face of reports of Mr. Wolfe's success in mining in Montana, efforts have been made to contact sources in that state which might recall him or his dealings. Thus far these have failed of result.

Mr. Wolfe was the owner of the Day mine, a few miles north of town on the Mother Lode Highway, and of the River Bend Mine, near Placerville, and at the time of his death was enroute to Placerville from Sacramento, bringing some supplies.

Although an earlier report by the coroner said his car was headed west on the highway, it seems that the machine was proceeding toward Placerville when Mr. Wolfe lost control of the car on the Webber Creek bridge, and the machine overturned just east of the bridge after running up on the bordering embankment.

According to Mrs. MacDonald, Mr. (Turn to page 2)

Scout Campaign Nearing Close

Solicitations Group Urged To Complete Contacts And File Final Reports Promptly

Scouters who are assisting in the annual campaign for funds to finance the Boy Scout movement in the county were urged Wednesday morning by J. H. Palmer, chairman of the campaign, to conclude the drive with all possible dispatch.

"We are a little over-due in concluding our campaign now," Mr. Palmer stated, "since we had hoped that our work might be completed by the fore part of the present week."

"However, some of the volunteer workers have had other matters requiring their attention and the Armistice holiday last week made it difficult to contact contributors."

"It is hoped that within the next day or so the solicitation may be concluded and a final report made by each of the volunteer workers."

Mr. Palmer suggested that those who may wish to contribute to the support of the Boy Scout movement in any amount, and who may not be called upon by solicitors, may send their contributions directly to him at the Placerville Grammar school.

Legion Asks Prompt Trial Of Bridges

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—National Commander Stephen P. Chadwick of the American Legion today sent a "direct demand" to Secretary of Labor Perkins that she proceed without delay with the "pending matter" of the trial of Harry Bridges on charges that he is an undesirable alien and subject to deportation.

The regular meeting of Placerville Ski Club will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the P. G. & E. Company offices. President Robert Carpenter, Jr., announces.

The birth of a daughter, Sharon Leona Butts, to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lee Butts, of Placerville, at the Sanatorium on November 13, was recorded Wednesday in a certificate filed with Recorder Charles Marsh.

KELSEYAN HELD AS BURGAR

Captured Coming From Mine Shaft, J. P. Morris Admits He Sought $15,000 Cache

County officials continued their investigation Wednesday noon after James Perry Morris, 36, of Kelsey, had been lodged in the county jail under a burglary charge following his arrest at three o'clock in the morning as he was making an exit from the Dayton shaft at the Black Oak mine at Garden Valley.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon announced he has Morris' signed confession that he entered the mine in search of a $15,000 cache of gold he believed there.

Morris, resident four years at Kelsey and father of four children, was arrested by guards at the mine who notified Russell J. Wilson, the mine owner, who notified Sheriff George M. Smith and Deputy Sheriff Ralph Jones. The latter two took Morris into custody.

The district attorney revealed that an advance tip had been received on the job but declined to discuss the nature of the information.

County officials are seeking to determine whether Morris was alone in the undertaking, or whether others may be involved.

BROWNLEE SPEAKER AT PROGRAM MEETING OF SHAKESPEARE CLUB

The regular program meeting of the Shakespeare Club was held in the Memorial room at the clubhouse on Tuesday afternoon and at the meeting announcements called attention to the potluck farewell luncheon for Mrs. R. A. Healy, to be held at the clubhouse Thursday of this week, and to the regular Garden Section meeting, at the clubhouse on Tuesday, November 22.

Mrs. Robert Carpenter, Sr., program chairman, presented as the speaker of the day W. H. Brownlee, expert in the solution of crime, who was in Placerville for the day having been guest speaker at the Lions Club luncheon.

Mr. Brownlee held the attention of the club members for more than an hour, relating many personal experiences in his six-year study of various crimes.

After the lecture, delicious refreshments were served by Mesdames Peterson, Hearn, Hollenbeck and Mart. Mrs. C. A. Smith and Mrs. Horace Wanzler presided at the tea table.

The birth of a son, James Lee Puthuff, to Mr. and Mrs. Romey L. Puthuff, of Placerville, on November 12, was recorded in a certificate filed Wednesday at the courthouse.

THE OCCIDENT MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT

An Executive Has Nothing To Do — Almost

By F. C. BIERNE
In "Advertising Age"

As everybody knows, an executive has practically nothing to do—that is, nothing to do except:

To decide what is to be done; to tell somebody to do it; to listen to reasons why it should not be done, why it should be done by somebody else, or why it should be done in a different way, and to prepare arguments in rebuttal that shall be convincing and conclusive.

To follow up to see if the thing has been done; to discover that it has not been done; to inquire why it has not been done; to listen to excuses from the person who should have done it and did not do it.

To follow up a second time to see if the thing has been done; to discover that it has been done but done incorrectly; to point out how it should have been done; to conclude that as long as it has been done, it may as well be left as it is; to wonder if it is not time to get rid of a person who cannot do a thing correctly; to reflect that the person at fault has a wife and seven children, and that certainly no other executive in the world would put up with him for a moment; and that, in all probability, any successor would be just as bad or worse.

To consider how much simpler and better the thing would have been done had he done it himself in the first place; to reflect sadly that if he had done it himself he would have been able to do it right in twenty minutes, but that as things turned out he himself spent two days trying to find out why it was that it had taken somebody else three weeks to do it wrong; but to realize that such an idea would strike at the very foundation of the belief of all employees that an executive has nothing to do.

Brother Of Ex-Mayor Accused In Scandal

LOS ANGELES (U)—Joseph E. Shaw, brother-secretary to former Mayor F. L. Shaw, was directly accused today of collecting $6,500 from the sale of civil service examination papers in the fire department, in confessions given to District Attorney Buron R. Pitts, who made them public.

Pitts said Shaw, former navy lieutenant and reputed "power behind the throne" of the Shaw administration, was named by Battalion Fire Chief Guy Kuykendall and John R. Spring, ousted secretary of the fire commission, as the man to whom the money was paid.

CRASH VICTIM MILLIONAIRE

Wolfe was a native of Germany who was brought to America as a child. His family had some means and settled in New York City where deceased spent his early life and was married. His wife died at childbirth and within a few weeks afterward, Wolfe bade his mother farewell and started west to seek fame and fortune.

He is reported to have entered upon sheep herding in Montana and as a result of this work came in contact with a man who reported a rich discovery. Wolfe and the partner are said to have located the property, a gold mine, later to become known as the Elkhorn mine, and undertook ownership upon a partnership basis.

A short time later, the partner, a Texan, is said to have disposed of his interest in the property to Mr. Wolfe. This was about 1870. Mr. Wolfe is said to have developed the property and operated it until some time in the 1880s when, so he had told Mrs. MacDonald and others, he sold the mine for a million dollars.

Thereafter, according to his report, he went to Seattle and purchased a yacht and devoted the next six or seven years to cruising the world. In addition to the cost of this adventure, he was said to have lost heavily in a depression during the 1890s and the turn of the century left him with about $20,000.

He came to California about twenty years ago and to this county about seven years ago.

Friends do not know the name of the son whom they seek to reach to report Mr. Wolfe's passing.

U. S. Population Set At 132,215,000

WASHINGTON, (U)—The census bureau announced today that preliminary estimates indicated a record population of 132,215,000 for continental United States on July 1, 1938. The total represented a population increase of 958,000 over the 1937 estimate.

SLAYER—Eva Kopelchak, 17, held in New York on a charge of shooting her mother six times with a .22 rifle and then crushing her skull with a shoemaker's last. The slaying occurred not long after pleas of the mother, Mrs. Christina Piatk, had won the girl's release from Rockland State Hospital. Eva appeared, as above, in mannish garb at Bellevue Hospital, New York, where she was arrested. Police say she confessed the killing.

Mechanic To Get Bill For $65,000 Damage

HONOLULU, T. H. (U)—A bill for $65,000 damages faced Ben (Wrong Flight) Fleigelman today for his amazing theft of an army bomber which he cracked up in a pineapple patch five miles from Luke Field.

The Brooklyn mechanic, private first class was not presented with the bill as yet.

But under one form of army procedure which was being discussed as part of his discipline Fleigelman would be billed for damages inflicted to army property.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

California farmers—and, in fact, all California—will follow with intense interest the inquiry which has just been launched in San Francisco by the United States Senate Civil Liberties Committee, headed by Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr.

The La Follette Committee has moved into California with the announced intent of determining whether a conspiracy exists on the part of employers to prevent organization and collective bargaining by employees.

Of specific interest to agriculture, it proposes to probe into the affairs of California farm organizations to determine whether they are dominated by "big business," as frequently charged by labor leaders and radical agitators, and whether they have been party to an employer-conspiracy to balk unionization of workers.

The Committee is expected to devote much of its time to an inquiry into the affairs of the Associated Farmers of California.

This writer, it so happens, is under subpoena to testify before the Committee concerning the activities of the Agricultural Council of California—apparently with regard to whether the Council has opposed organization of farm workers, and whether it is supported by "big business."

Both the Council and the writer, as executive secretary of the Council, will welcome the opportunity to submit the facts fully and publicly. And we believe that other farm organizations will take the same position.

The Agricultural Council of California is the legislative board of California's major farm cooperatives. It is supported by those cooperatives and neither received, nor has received, funds from any other source. It is a farm organization, supported by farmers, working to protect the welfare of farmers. It has no other interests and serves no other interests.

Neither the Council nor its executive office is opposed to organization of labor when it is lawfully and peacefully conducted. But both are firmly opposed to organization of workers by force and duress. Labor has an unquestioned right to organize; the Council recognizes that right. But also has an unquestioned right NOT to organize; the Council recognizes that right, too.

As a result of previous experiences with investigating committees, California farm people, quite frankly, have looked upon the La Follette Committee's scheduled inquiry with considerable suspicion—suspicion that it might develop into a fishing expedition to get such facts as the Committee might desire and to suppress facts which failed to fit into its pattern.

The Committee thus far, however, has shown a disposition to be fair. This writer has been assured by representatives of the Committee that witnesses will be given an opportunity to testify as fully as they like, or to submit prepared statements, if they so desire; that the Committee is seeking cooperation from farm organizations and has no desire to persecute or harass witnesses.

This writer's contact with the Committee thus far confirms that statement of the case and we are confident that farm people will cooperate fully with the Committee if this policy of fair inquiry is continued and if an honest endeavor is made to get at the facts, without prejudice or favor.

If civil liberties—not only of labor, but of farmers and all who come before the Committee—are respected before the Civil Liberties Committee, we believe that California agriculture will lend its wholehearted cooperation in the inquiry.

From this point on, the Committee may "take the witness!"

HUNTING PARTY

George Davenport, Bill Latimer, Chester Carsten, and Bob Barrett, of Camino, left Monday evening for Chico, to spend Tuesday pheasant hunting. Mr. Davenport also intends visiting with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Marsh, who live there.

Economy

Many families compelled to live on a smaller income than usual have learned to do so without suffering by cutting out or down many items of expenditure. Some have moved into a less expensive house which is healthful and in a decent neighborhood, but farther from town or in a less fashionable locality. House repairs can often be postponed, or made by members of the family instead of by a hired person.

By study a satisfactory food standard can be maintained which is much less expensive than of old, buying in season, in bulk, raw products, less expensive brands and substituting inexpensive foods for high priced ones. The clothing outlay may be cut by wearing garments longer by remodeling, by having a smaller variety and by buying materials which wear better rather than expensive, flimsy materials, as chiffon hose.

Some families have economized on telephones and some are using oil lamps instead of electric lights. It is not well to cut recreation out of the budget entirely, some movies and some sport is almost necessary, but much home entertainment and self arranged rather than commercial forms of entertainment are often really more pleasing, cheaper and more wholesome, as home talent plays, pot-luck meals, "Dutch treats" in which each participant pays for his own, and modest refreshments for neighbors.

Beware of curtailing your life insurance. It is not economy to let it lapse. Most families cannot get ahead much in these depression times, but if we "get by" we are doing well. For most people the need for strenuous economy will be temporary, although the practice of thrift should be a lifetime habit.

Fashion, Fads, Foibles

"Hoop! Hoop! Hooray!" says Dame Fashion, when dictating the new gale clothes. Great Grand-daughter is to wear the same hoop skirts, pinched-in waist, high-piled hair, and confection of a hat which made our mothers bewitching in the gay 70's. A sheet from Godey's Lady's Book, might almost serve as a fashion plate today.

Sheer wool, in soft draperies and such delicate colors as sky blue, sea green and other muted shades, gives one the femininity so much desired.

For a time, night gowns threatened to run out pajamas, but these popular bi-peds persist and milady is to shudder cozily in them on cool nights. They may be of crepe, jersey or outing.

The jumper frock, for the school girl, has the advantage of a dress top which may be frequently laundered and reappear fresh. It is the neck and sleeves of a dress which absorb perspiration and soil most quickly and the washable gimpie reduces drycleaning bills.

Mrs. Solomon Says:

Expose your family to good taste in color, form, harmonies, music, art and manners and these refinements will gradually become second nature to them.

Housewifery

If the children have trouble in identifying their own stockings, sew a bit of thread of a different color in the tip of all hose belonging to each member. They can then tell which is which—and no arguing about it—by looking at the thread color which each claims.

To make prunes more palatable, add a little cinnamon or lemon slices to them after they are cooked.

If you use canned fruits for cocktail, salads, or puddings, use the juices for drinks. Add it to a strong lemonade.

Lemon brings out the flavor of the fruit and extends the drink. If the canned fruit was sweetened, you need not add sugar. The juices of several fruits may be combined.

If your cake crust or your toast is burned, scrape off the burn with a grater.

Leaky overshoes, raincoats and umbrellas may be mended by inserting adhesive tape over the hole on the inside.

Old nightgowns may serve as slip covers for fine dresses hanging in the closet.

Using Garage Space

To make the garage useful to the best degree, add shelves and cupboards at the end or sides where space can be spared, and lay some boards across the rafters overhead. With hooks and pegs for hanging tools and plenty of places to put things, one may unload some of the seasonal things from the house and have more room there.

If there is danger that things stored in the garage may be molested, one may put locks on the cupboard doors. When one is building a garage, he may sometimes, with almost no extra expense, add a store-room along one side or build closets at the end or even make an attic with a large storage room overhead.

The Fireplace

"I wish I had a wide old hearth Where maple knots would roar and blaze. And we could sit and drink our tea And read old books on autumn days."

Cranberry Mold

Boil until tender one quart of cranberries, with two cups water. Strain. Add two cups sugar, eight dried dates, five dried figs, one-third cup chopped nuts and a tablespoon of gelatin powder. When beginning to set, fold in a half cup of whipped cream, or let it harden and pile whipped cream on top.

TRAP SMUGGLER

MURRAYVILLE, B. C., (UP)—Thos. F. Alex, barber, was fined $50 for smuggling fireworks from the United States. Officers at a border customs house found 893 small packages of firecrackers concealed in his car.

APPLE A DAY PAYS

WALKERTON, Ont., (UP)—Mrs. Caroline Freidburger, who has just celebrated her 90th birthday here, attributed her remarkably good health and long life to "work, an apple a day, and three regular meals."

"OUT OF GAS" PRINCIPAL SERVICE CALL OF BAY BRIDGE TRAFFIC

Two years ago at 12:30 o'clock noon, November 12, 1936, the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge was officially opened to traffic.

Since then approximately 17,800,000 vehicles, transporting more than 39,100,000 persons, have crossed the great span. Chief Engineer C. H. Purcell reported to Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly.

Up to November 1, 1938, the Bridge has earned a total of $9,480,514.31 with a daily average since the span opened of 24,388 vehicles.

The Bay Bridge tow service has given aid to 13,507 since the span opened to November 1, 1938, or to one out of every 1,298 cars crossing the bridge. This is an average of 18.79 per day. Lack of gasoline was the source of trouble of more than half the motorists, with 7,389 calls registered during the two-year period.

There were 4,009 vehicles towed and 2,034 tires changed. The Bay Bridge's own fire department put out 69 vehicular fires. Calls for Bay Bridge service are made by motorists through the red tow-call boxes placed along both decks of the span and on the distribution structure.

SCOUTING

Troop 57

Troop 57 is going on a camping trip sometime during Thanksgiving vacation, but we have to live up to our reputation for being a classy troop and use a cabin. Anyone who would like to donate a three-story mansion will please get in touch with Mr. Immel.

There will be a Court of Honor on December 8, or 9, and at the rate we are going now, Scout headquarters will have to speed up the production of badges.

We had an exceptionally good turnout for the Armistice parade, but there was something wrong with the marching—they were all out of step except me! —Bill Dillinger, reporter

NATIONAL GUARD NEWS

The guards are having their Thanksgiving turkey shoot at their range in Edgewood next Sunday, November 20. The public is cordially invited. There will be a rifle match early in the morning and then a turkey shoot all day.

The guards took part in the Annual Armistice Day Parade held in Auburn on November 11. It was one of the best Armistice Day parades ever held in this city. We sincerely hope that the veteran organizations continue to stress the patriotic importance of this day in the future as they have in the past. They know that they will always find the Guards ready and willing to cooperate.

It is gratifying to see that the World War veterans are anxious to have their boys receive military training. Naturally they know above all others, the importance of being prepared. Past Commander Roy Brown of the American Legion brought his oldest son Cecil, up to us last Tuesday night and enrolled him in the company. Cecil has just turned eighteen and his dad was anxious for him to join.

Incidentally Roy was one of our first corporals in the original Company C organized in this city on April 10, 1930. We wish that more of the fathers and mothers of the community would look into the advantages of having their sons familiar with military work. We all hope that the youth of these United States will never have to protect their country from invasion but we all also know that right now it looks like we had better prepare for just that thing. You can bet your bottom dollar that Uncle Sam will not be caught flat-footed like he was during the last war.

Tuesday night November 22 is the night the company commander, Capt. A. L. Predmore, has set aside as the fellows' own night. We are going to have games, interesting talks, and a feed. Maybe you have heard that the guards do have good times once in awhile. This night is one of those times.

Babe Fatally Gassed In S. F. Apartment

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Janice Charney, who would have been three years old on Christmas Day, died in an oxygen tent at San Francisco Hospital today, several hours after she, her sister Osalyn, 5, and their father, Herman Charney, 43, were carried unconscious from their monoxide-filled flat.

Pending an autopsy physicians tentatively fixed cause of death as monoxide poisoning caused by gas heaters which exhausted the oxygen from the tightly closed flat. The two children were also found to have measles and Janice suffered from pneumonia.

CLUB MEET POSTPONED

The meeting of the contract bridge club circle, composed largely of members of the American Legion Auxiliary, which was scheduled for Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Hazel Inch, has been postponed until the evening of the fifth Wednesday of the month, November 30.
